MOTIVATION AND REWARDS

Another eventful and successful year to the credit of Venus International Foundation (VIF) who strive to recognize the distinguished, hardworking and talented people from within the country and from overseas. VIF clearly understand that motivation and rewards are important for both young and old, men and women and rich and poor to keep going and to excel in the areas of their respective strengths.

Another notable accomplishment includes the plenary and invited talks by experts that were well received during VICAM 2016. Such academic/research interactions are the core requirements for interdisciplinary research and bridging the research gaps. We aim to take this to next level in forthcoming years. Besides, an attempt will be made to offer industrially relevant courses for the people both in industry and academia who wishes to upgrade themselves similar to the practice in advanced economies.

We hope to excel in our pursuits to help the needy students, to educate and upgrade the professionals and to promote a healthy and vibrant research ambience in India.
